

Two Seasonable
Delicacies—
Peaches
and Ralston
BREAKFAST FOOD

The proper meal on the mornings of these hot summer days, when delicacies are most craved, consists of sliced peaches and Ralston Breakfast Food.

They add a slight dash of zest to that delicate flavor of glutinous wheat which has made Ralston breakfast food famous with folks fond of fine foods.

Appetizing at all times, Ralston Breakfast Food nourishes but does not overheat the blood.

THE BIG LEESBURG MEETING

Though Held in the Interest of Jacksonville, the Sentiment Was Strongly for Ocala

Ocala sent a respectable delegation down to Leesburg yesterday, considering the disagreeable state of the weather, to attend the Jacksonville removal meeting at that place.

Those the reporter recognized were General Bullock, Burford, Will Hocker, L. S. and Geo. Williams, Stanley, Fishel, Haisley, Moorhead, Joe Davis, Penny Dukes, Chemist Schrieber, John Robinson, Joe Munden, Ethridge Thagard, Jr., E.C. McLeod, J.W. Sylvester, Miss Butler, Galloway, Josh Andrews, Will Sinclair, Dave Roach, Jake Gerig and Fire Laddies Mays, Hendricks and Lloyd Chaille, Mrs. I. O. Arms, Mrs. H. C. Jones and others we did not know. The run was quickly made and Candler, Ocklawaha, Stanton and Lady Lake added several dozen to the excursion. At the last named place S. W. Teague, the "towering pine" of that section, loomed up grandly and had all his delegation decorated with Ocala's ensanguined badge for the state capitol, which badge was in such evidence in the Leesburg opera house meeting composed of 400 people, that the honors were in the Brick City's favor.

The speaking was done in the opera house. Editor Joe Pratt, of the Commercial, spoke the address of welcome and L. E. Dozier, Lake county's executive committeeman, introduced the speakers, who were Hon. D. U. Fletcher and Frank Clark, of Jacksonville. As speeches go they were entertaining and, from their standpoint, irresistible, but had opportunity presented itself it could easily have been proven that most of the positions they assumed were not tenable. Room and time will not permit a synopsis of the speeches.

Immediately after the speaking the audience was requested to repair to the Gold Block and partake of the barbecued dinner, which the downpour of rain all day prevented being eaten under the grateful shade of the trees, was all that could be desired.

Notes

A fair estimate of the crowd put the number of strangers present at not over 250. If badges versus buttons told the story, Ocala was ahead and Jacksonville came second.

Oxford was present with a delegation of 25, all redhot Ocalaites. G. M. Blair was their spokesman.

Orlando was represented by Judge Beggs, Attorney Jones, Mahlon Gore, and others. They said the execrable elements kept 100 Orlandoites away.

Monte Verde sent Mr. Dale, a former Ocalan, who is now in charge of the Close and French farm. He is true to the Brick City.

The Jacksonville band played splendidly and all enjoyed their music.

The Ocala people in some way discovered that Merchant Cassady of Leesburg had a warm spot in heart for the Brick City, and paid their respects to him.

The Ocala rooters overflowed with exuberance of spirit, and decorated everything in sight. Even a mammoth Newfoundland dog was not overlooked, and as he proudly paraded the streets his bushy caudal extremity waved Ocala's carmine badge.

General Bullock held quite a reception with his war-scarred veterans. He encountered six of them in one group. They gave their brave old leader a soldier's welcome and made him promise to attend their next reunion.

R. A. Burford, Ocala's shining legal luminary, whom the people here delight to honor, was a great favorite and many private appeals were made to him to speak and answer Frank Clark, but common civility and courtesy forbade. It was a Jacksonville meeting.

When the Lady Lake delegation left the cars on the return trip, they assured Mr. Burford if he would come to Leesburg to speak for Ocala, they would guarantee him a big delegation.

While in the delightful town of Leesburg we had a pleasant chat with Mr. John W. Lucius, a former Ocalan, and his charming wife. John has not forgotten his native county. His many friends in Marion will be pleased to hear of his success in business and the probability of his opening a branch store at Daytona, which place he and his family visited this summer and had a splendid time.

Garrett & Gerig, who have a branch drugstore in Leesburg, are building up a splendid trade and are justly popular.

We just had time to grasp the hands of Editors Joe and Pierre Pratt, who in the general all around make-up of the Leesburg Commercial, set a shining example in issuing a strictly first class local paper without a peer in the state.

The "demonition" moisture of earth and air prevented us from taking a stroll through the halls of the Conference College, building. Leesburg is strictly educational and it is part of their religion, for they not only maintain a nine months' school term in a is a pure medicine, and contains in concentrated form remedies recognized by the most skilful of the medical profession as the most effective agents for the cure of kidney and bladder diseases.

The board of county commissioners at their meeting Wednesday morning conditionally agreed to make an appropriation of $500 to the capitol removal cause. The conditions are such that just at present they are not ready to be made known, but in due course of time a public statement will be given.—Gainesville Sun.

Allen Halverson, of West Prairie, Wis., says: "People come ten miles to buy Foley's Kidney Cure," while J. A. Spero, of Helmer, Ind., says: "It is the medical wonder of the age."
